Explainers animate your marketing messages!

Animated explainer or "cartoon explainer" are those cute short video clips you see on company websites that tell you what particular companies do well. Explainer videos are a great tool for enhancing your brand, building audience engagement, and converting prospects into customers.

Cartoons - The Power to Explain

Harnessing the power of cartoons for your explainer video can help you create high-impact messages that speak to visitors (prospects) in ways virtually no other marketing medium can. Why? Because:

1. You're communicating via a channel they're conditioned to associate with fun and childhood (and most definitely not business and sales)—so their guard is down and they're massively more receptive.
2. The added level of abstraction allows them to focus on the message rather than petty details, so they can actually evaluate the real benefit.

If you'd like your audience to take note of what you have to say, there are few better ways than creating a cartoon to convey your message!

You Tube

The image features the YouTube logo in a 3D, embossed style. The word "You" is rendered in black, while "Tube" is in red with white lettering. The entire logo is reflected on a white surface below it, creating a mirror image. The background is a dark gray gradient at the top, transitioning to white where the reflection is.

There are 3 steps to using eduCanon.

- (1) Building lessons. Add questions INTO any YouTube video.
- (2) Assigning lessons. After students register and add your class, assign lessons for them.
- (3) Monitoring Lessons. Watch student progress in real-time, question-by-question!

Abraham Lincoln

A collage of 12 different portraits of Abraham Lincoln, arranged in a grid-like fashion. The portraits vary in style, including black and white, sepia, and colorized versions. A green arrow points to one of the portraits in the middle row, right column. The portraits show Lincoln in various poses and outfits, including suits and bow ties.

The logo for Nanooogo features the word "nanooogo" in a black, hand-drawn, chalk-like font. A small orange dot is positioned above the second 'n'.

Nanoogo

Online Creation Platform

The word "Nanoogo" is rendered in a thick, black, hand-drawn style font. Each letter is filled with a dense pattern of white diagonal lines, giving it a textured, sketchy appearance. A small, solid orange circle is positioned directly above the letter 'i'.
